STUART RABNER
CHIEF JUSTICE

“Volunteers strengthen the court-community partnership by serving as active participants in their communities. They also help to promote public trust and confidence in the court system, which is so very important. Volunteers are vital to our court system.”

Volunteer Programs Available Statewide

Child Placement Review Board

The Child Placement Review (CPR) program is a key component of the court's role in the oversight of children in foster care. Groups of trained volunteers, appointed by the assignment judge, assist the court to review cases of children placed outside of their homes by the New Jersey Division of Child Protection and Permanency (DCP&P). A volunteer is assigned to a CPR board, consisting of about five volunteers, to review these cases.

Court Appointed Special Advocates

The Court Appointed Special Advocates (CASA) program monitors abused and neglected children in out-of-home placements.

Juvenile Conference Committee

A Juvenile Conference Committee (JCC) is a six- to nine-member citizen volunteer panel appointed by the family division judge. In a confidential setting, JCC panels hear and decide matters involving alleged juvenile offenders.

Supervised Visitation Program

Specially-trained volunteers and student interns oversee the visits of children and non-custodial parents, to observe interaction between the child/children and parent/guardian and to maintain a safe environment.

Guardianship Monitoring Program

Guardianship Monitoring Program (GMP) volunteers are appointed and trained to assist the courts by examining documents contained in case files and reviewing required periodic reports to reduce the potential for abuse and exploitation of incapacitated adults by their guardians.

Municipal Court Mediation

Community members are recruited, screened, and trained as court volunteers to mediate cases of minor dispute. As a neutral party, a mediator helps litigants discuss the issues of their case and explore options to resolve the dispute themselves.

Volunteer Programs

Special Civil Part Settlement Programs

Volunteers work with litigants to resolve disputes by developing a voluntary agreement that is acceptable to all and without having to go before a judge. Types of cases include landlord/tenant, special civil and small claims.

Parenting Mediation

Trained volunteers use mediation techniques to help parents or guardians develop a parenting plan, particularly in any family action in which the parties do not agree to a custody or parenting time/visitation arrangement.

Courthouse Services Assistance

Volunteers help court staff perform a variety of tasks that facilitate case processing and customer service.

Courthouse Visitors Assistance

The Statewide Courthouse Visitors Assistance program allows members of the community to participate in greeting and directing court users, such as litigants, attorneys and visitors, to their destinations, answer questions and provide assistance in person or by phone.

Intensive Supervision Program (ISP) Screening Board

The Intensive Supervision Program (ISP) is a reentry program. Certain inmates who are serving state prison sentences are allowed to finish their terms in the community under strict supervision. ISP balances the rehabilitation of its participants with community safety through close supervision.

Juvenile Auto Theft Prevention

Community interest groups and trained volunteers educate juvenile offenders about the serious consequences of this crime, an integral part of the program's success.

Note: This program is offered only in Essex County.

For more information about these programs, email your county volunteer services liaison. Contact information can be found on the back of this brochure.
